April Brunch

The Job's Daughters with their two advisors helped set, serve and clear tables. They also help at our monthly Family Dinners.

Junior Warden Steve Hawkins cracked a lot of eggs.

The Omlete makers: Greg Gabriel with son Jonathan and daughter Zoe cooked custom omeletes.

Belgian Waffle makers: Bert Weiner and Joel Saxberg kept the waffles coming for very happy customers.

Bryan Cambra with girl friend Melissa and SW Ron Lewis enjoyed the brunch. Ron was part of the work crew. In the background is Joel Saxberg at the waffle station with Jerry Harris deciding whether to put strawberries, syrup or whipped cream or all 3 on his waffle.

Subject: A successful Brunch

Dear John

We just wanted to congratulate you and your crew for the brunch this year. In years past we remember the work involved with putting something like this off. I did thank Dennis Yen for the appropriate background music and slide show. Joel and I both had our back to it most of the time, but occasionally could see some of the pictures.

Yes, at last count, our church friend Betty Kvidahl did bring in 36. I just spoke with her and she said it always has been fun asking friends, plus all those who came have enjoyed it over the many years they have been coming. Our Pastor Frank Wang enjoyed talking with you also. I believe he may have read an earlier Trestle Board where you mentioned having piloting Reagan around in the 80's. He's looking forward to taking his family again to the Reagan Library when his in-laws come from China & son is back from Babson College this summer. Not sure of the total guests there yesterday, but this number must be maybe 1/3 of the total? . . .

Mainly wanted to pass on our A+ for this year's brunch to you and all the many Masons who made it happen, Judy (& Joel) Saxberg
